

November 12, 2025: On Continuing Intrusion into Our Home

I am beginning work today at 4:11am. Each movement that I have made since waking up has been met with an acoustic agitation response from the team of spies that monitors my home.

There has been an acoustic response to me waking up today (opening my eyes and stirring in bed), moving to empty the coffee filter with coffee, opening my computer, and beginning work.

I have not done anything else today except wake up, make coffee, and sit down to do work. (Not even use the bathroom).

This follows from very intentional acoustic bombardment into our home as we laid down to rest last night and once during the movie that we watched which was called The Wrestler.

I am receiving a distinct impression that their spy team is seeking attention more than anything else. I am receiving a distinct impression that I am dealing with an ex-lover that is jilted, will not stop trying to regain a presence in my life, and has crossed far beyond the line of any acceptable behavior in our world.

I am recording these moments as a record of what life has been like since I was elected to the office of 'precinct chair' and resigned.

I am being stalked by the team of people that are involved in politics.

(There is an air horn now blowing in the near distance. This follows banging and clanging while I 'banged' out the old coffee from the plastic filter into my trash can, and a car driving by to signify the moment when I turned on my computer at 4:00 am.)

This is the truth of what happened to America.

I don't believe that I am special in any way. I believe that this is what happened to politicians as they attempted to help the people of America. I believe that they found that a team of people began spying on them, following them around, and threatening/attempting to ruin their lives in exactly the same way that I am experiencing.

However, instead of continuing to become a part of the problem like many other people, I am choosing to document this problem for future use.

Since this is the behavior of those that are running the government, and since I am witnessing so many people participating in this operation, I am left with the reasonable conclusion that America has already fallen. This conclusion is confirmed by the fact that a convicted felon is, in fact, running the United States military and armed forces at this time.

I believe that many people have attempted to 'expose' that failed criminal for the truth, but I am concluding that the failed criminal has been artificially inflated by the team that is running the interior skeleton of the armed forces for their own personal gains.

Once you begin running the national security of the country, if you are criminally minded, then it makes sense that you would install a criminal as your 'leader' to use for your own advantage and criminal intentions.

I am recording that I am witnessing what appears to be a criminal operation that stems from inside of the Pentagon.